

Child Well-Being Network | Family Engagement Workgroup Meeting Notes
Wednesday, October 19, 2016

- Andrew Ross and Catie Buckingham presented about their organization, Center for Community Services (CCS). CCS houses seven different organizations that assist with education, job training, financial literacy, and more. Click here to view their website to learn even more about what CCS is doing.
- Dana McConnell, Executive Director of the Center for Developmental Services (CDS), gave a presentation on how CDS is creating positive outcomes for children with special needs and their families. To view Dana's presentation please click here.
- The idea of creating a step-by-step guide for implementing an integrated service model was discussed. Discussion included:
 - the need to define the criteria for an integrated service model.
 - different organizations within the integrated service model should have common goals.
 - Information sharing is ideal within an integrated service model, but can sometimes be hindered by HIPPA laws when dealing with medical information.

Next Steps

- Look for an email with the next meeting date in the coming months. The workgroup will likely meet again in early 2017 to continue the discussion on integrated service models. We will also continue to discuss if creating a step-by-step guide to creating an integrated service model is possible and a project the group would like to take on.